

Technische
Universität
Braunschweig

International House

Technische Universität Braunschweig

Technische Universität Braunschweig is a technical university with a rich tradition and a proven research and teaching profile.

Studying in Braunschweig

- » Engineering branch covering architecture, civil and environmental engineering, electrical engineering, informatics and mechanical engineering
- » Natural sciences branch including biology, chemistry, mathematics and others
- » Business sciences, social sciences, humanities, educational sciences and subject-specific teaching skills

Focus in Research

- » 4 interdisciplinary Core Research Areas: Mobility, Metrology, Engineering for Health, Future City
- » 2 Clusters of Excellence: Sustainable and Energy Efficient Aviation, QuantumFrontiers

TU Braunschweig and its Partners

- » TU Braunschweig is part of TU9, the Alliance of leading Universities of Technology in Germany.
- » Our 250 partner universities are spread over 45 countries around the world.
- » We are part of a strong network of research institutions in the region, such as the German National Metrology Institute, the Research Airport, the Helmholtz Centre for Infection Research and several Fraunhofer institutes

→ www.tu-braunschweig.de